Above the skies is our supreme source of energy, the Sun! The moment we read the word sun, we think of getting tanned, and having a sultry weather.

At Sirumalai, even the sun is kind enough to reduce its exposure on you and give you pleasant stay here and ensuring you enjoy all the benefits of sun without getting too much affected from its other side effects!

The hustle and bustle of city life not only keeps us busy and productive, but also adds a little bit of pollution in the air.

But do we deserve any better quality of life to equip ourselves with a healthy mind for our life's next journey at any point? If your answer was and is yes, then we have your back for you! Sirumalai with its pristine flora gives us all the opportunities to detox ourselves for a weekend and enjoy the tranquility thus recharging us for the next goals of our life!

In India, it is said that every 10km, a same food tastes very different. Interesting, isn't it?! What do you think is the main reason for this? Take a guess! Well, it is nothing but the water that makes all the magic! The water used for cooking food brings about this taste.

Being said this, Sirumalai's water has a different magic to itself which is manifested in the food that is prepared here! With us you can enjoy a locally prepared food with the waters of Sirumalai, which makes it a ideal combination to be had along with the weather that prevails here!
